Business Background

Mr. Martin has been involved in the investment and finance field since 1990, specializing in investment analysis including derivatives, commodity futures, hedge funds, and equity investments – both domestic and foreign. His main clients have been trusts, estates, and large retirement plans where a higher standard of care was required. He was educated at Columbia University.

Speeches & Seminars

Mr. Martin is an active public speaker. He has lectured for non-profits on the topics of planned giving, as well as fiduciary responsibilities surrounding alternative investments. He has lectured the New York Society of Securities Analysts and the California Society of Certified Public Accountants. He has also spoken before individual accounting, business management, and law firms. He is an instructor at UCLA Extension in the Department of Business and Management.

Volunteer

Mr. Martin is the Past Chairman of the Century City Chamber of Commerce and has sat on its Board for six years.

Fiduciary Advisory Services

SP&H advises fiduciaries to minimize their risk as officers, directors, and trustees through complete and thorough analysis of their entities' objectives and process. We detail goals and objectives, timelines, performance, funding, risk tolerance, and tax status and present the client with a summary plan to follow. We advise on a quarterly basis for ongoing professional risk management.

Professional Work

Mr. Martin will be featured in the upcoming film documentary entitled "The Price of Advice." He is a Contributing Editor for Trader Monthly and has been featured on CNBC and India Journal. His articles have been published in a wide variety of trade publications and newsletters.
